| Capacity building for migration management and institutional strengthening. | The action is based on objective three (improved migration management in countries of origin, transit and destination) within the EU Trust Fund for Africa. It is also contributing to the second objective that is strengthening resilience of communities and in particular the most vulnerable, as well as refugees and displaced people. The intervention logic of the action is to provide technical assistance to selected government agencies in migration, integration and asylum. Specifically, capacity building and support of national authorities on the elaboration of national migration strategies which includes migration, integration and asylum elements, and of the identification of migration profiles are key elements for the stability and development of the country. On one hand, designing national migration strategies settled to the reality of each country contributes to cope with challenges related to migration issues and to take advantages of migration phenomenon. On the other hand, new migration strategies requires communication within the administrative organization and training of migration offices and others on migration-related topics. | Spain | 1 700 000 € | Egypt, |

| Improving smallholder livelihoods and resilience in the SNNPR Region of Ethiopia through climate smart agricultural economic development' | Improving smallholder livelihoods and resilience in the SNNPR Region of Ethiopia through climate smart agricultural economic development' is implemented by a consortium of four NGOs, namely; SOS Sahel Ethiopia, Farm Africa, Self Help Africa, and Vita. The focus of the project is on sustainable, market oriented development of smallholder agriculture in a way that combines protection of an increasingly fragile natural resource base with reduction of rural poverty through increasing livelihood resilience and outcomes in an environmentally and economically sustainable way. The project aims to build resilience and adaptation to climate extremes of smallholder households in 15 weredas of the SNNPR and Oromia. The project is expected to benefit up to 44,545 smallholder households (222,725 people), including specific strategies for the poorest women and landless youths, by building their resilience to climate extremes through better integration of CSA solutions into long term development action. The project will build the resilience of individuals, households and communities by improving and diversifying livelihoods, developing community based management systems of resources critical to resilience (water, wetlands, farmlands, communal land and forests) and embedding location specific climate change adaptation and mitigation into its development interventions. The project will strengthen sustainability of project inputs and impact by developing the institutional capacity of community based organisation and extension and business development service providers to more effectively engage resource-poor farmers in production of high value crops and seeds and in the uptake of new production and processing technologies and market opportunities. | Ireland | 1 300 000 € | Ethiopia, |

| LIVE2AFRICA: PanAfrican Support to the Inter-African Bureau for Animal Resources (AU-IBAR) for a Sustainable Development of Livestock for Livelihoods in Africa | This Action aims at giving impetus to increased investments and efforts made by African Union Member States (AU MS), Regional Economic Communities (RECs) and the African Union (AU) towards achieving a significant increase in livestock production and productivity in Africa. A stronger and more sustainable African livestock sector will better contribute to food and nutritional security, economic growth and wealth creation in Africa, therefore addressing some root causes of migration. The Action will support the implementation of the Livestock Development Strategy for Africa, endorsed in 2015. The concrete planned activities of this Action, coordinated with the RECs will contribute to the following results: 1/ The investments in livestock value chains are increased 2/ The animal health delivery services are improved 3/ The management of the animal productivity and ecosystems are enhanced 4/ The resilience of livestock production systems is strengthened and 5/ The adoption of innovative technology in the livestock value chains is increased. These results are in line with Strategic area 4, component 5 of the Multi-Annual Indicative Programme 2014-2017 of the Pan-African Programme. Live2Africa gives a strong priority to livestock sustainability, looking closer on how climate change affects livestock systems, improving resilience of farmers and livestock keepers and developing gender sensitive intervention. | EU (DCI) | 19 000 000 € | |

| Programme d'appui à la commercialisation du bétail en Afrique de l'Ouest | Dans la région ouest africaine, le secteur de l'élevage est une grande opportunité d'intégration économique et de création de richesses pour les populations et les pays. En complément au soutien au secteur dans les pays prioritaires, ce programme vise le renforcement de la chaîne de valeur régionale des produits animaux au profit des éleveurs. L'accent est mis sur le renforcement du secteur privé et l'amélioration des politiques et pratiques régionales d'échanges en produits animaux. | Switzerland | | |
| Programme d'Appui à la Formation Professionnelle (PAFP IV, Phase 7) Mali | Le marché du travail au Mali est caractérisé par une main d'œuvre peu qualifiée. Dans ce contexte, 300'000 jeunes arrivent chaque année sur ce marché sans compétences. L'offre de formation par domaine et/ou filière est en deçà des attentes du secteur productif. La formation professionnelle e 40'000 personnes dont 50% de femmes à l'horizon 2017, améliore la qualité des ouvrages et augmente la compétitivité des entreprises en contribuant à l'augmentation des revenus dans les régions prioritaires de la DDC et de la coopération danoise. | Switzerland | 19 345 924 € | Mali, |

| Programme d'appui à la Modernisation des Exploitations Familiales (PAMEFA) Burkina Faso | Au Burkina Faso, les activités agricoles constituent la principale source d'emploi et de revenu pour 86% de la population active. Elles s'organisent essentiellement autour des familles, qui fournissent la main d'oeuvre (entre 3 et 10 actifs), en majorité féminine. Ces exploitations familiales, du fait de leur faible productivité, n'assurent pas la sécurité alimentaire du pays de manière durable et ne procurent pas suffisamment de revenus aux ruraux. Le présent programme vise la modernisation de ces exploitations familiales pour qu'elles satisfassent mieux les besoins d'une population dont la croissance est de 3% l'an. | Switzerland | 9 212 345 € | Burkina Faso, |
| Programme d'Appui à la Petite Irrigation (PAPI) Niger | Au Niger, la sécurité alimentaire des populations est dépendante des performances des exploitations familiales agropastorales. Cependant, même lors des années de bonne récolte, les paysans ne parviennent plus à assurer la sécurité alimentaire de leurs propres familles. En cas d'accès facile à l'eau, la culture maraîchère irriguée représente une opportunité à la diversification des activités, la sécurisation des revenus des ménages et à la modernisation des agricultures familiales. | Switzerland | 9 316 444 € | Niger, |
| Programme d'appui à la valorisation des produits forestiers non ligneux Burkina Faso | Le renforcement des compétences des acteurs de la filière par la formation professionnelle, l'équipement, l'organisation de la production et de la commercialisation permettent d'augmenter la quantité et la qualité des produits forestiers transformés. Cette contribution permettra aussi de traiter de la gestion durable des ressources forestières et de l'accès et du contrôle de ces ressources par les femmes, principales actrices de cette filière. | Switzerland | 4 145 555 € | Burkina Faso, |
| Programme d'appui au secteur de l'élevage (PASEL) Niger | Parents pauvres des politiques publiques, les systèmes d'élevage ont toujours fait preuve de grandes capacités d'adaptation. Pour faire face aux nouvelles menaces qui pèsent sur la réactivité des éleveurs et sur la durabilité du pastoralisme (changements climatiques, concurrence exacerbée pour l'accès aux ressources naturelles, insécurité, etc.), il est essentiel que les communautés et les collectivités territoriales maîtrisent et portent la responsabilité des schémas d'aménagement pastoraux. | Switzerland | 9 212 345 € | Niger, |
| Programme d'Appui au Secteur de l'élevage au Mali –PASEM Mali | Au Mali, l'élevage est pratiqué par 80% de la population rurale et contribue pour 38% à la production du secteur rural. Malgré ses potentialités, le secteur rencontre plusieurs contraintes comme la faible productivité, l'insécurité foncière et la faible organisation des acteurs. La DDC veut soutenir les acteurs de ce secteur en vue d'augmenter les investissements et la compétitivité des produits en valorisant les filières lait et bétail viande dans les régions de Mopti et de Tombouctou. | Switzerland | | Mali, |

| Programme d'Appui au Secteur du Développement Rural (Wusua Dabu) – PASDeR Bénin | Au Bénin en général, environ 11% des ménages sont en situation d'insécurité alimentaire et 38% vivent en-dessous du seuil de pauvreté. L'agriculture constitue la principale source d'emploi et de revenu. Le présent programme contribue à l'accroissement durable de la productivité des exploitations familiales paysannes agricoles et pastorales des départements du Borgou et de l'Alibori par la promotion des filières agroalimentaires (maïs, riz, lait, viande). | Switzerland | 10 133 580 € | Benin, |
| Programme d'Appui aux Filières Agropastorales de Sikasso – PAFA Mali | La DDC soutient le Conseil Régional de Sikasso et les partenaires privés locaux dans l'amélioration des conditions cadres pour le développement des filières pomme de terre et lait. Les appuis apportés contribueront à une meilleure organisation des différents segments de ces filières, de la production au marché et à la valorisation locale des produits au profit des petits producteurs et transformateurs. A terme, plus de 360'000 personnes assureront leur sécurité alimentaire et réduiront leur pauvreté. | Switzerland | 16 741 594 € | Mali, |
| Programme d'Education Alternative des Jeunes (PEAJ) Niger | Si le taux d'enrôlement en première année d'école formelle a fortement augmenté au Niger, la proportion d'abandon scolaire reste énorme. Le programme vise à donner une possibilité aux jeunes d'acquérir des bases (par un enseignement non formel, aussi appelé éducation alternative) afin de soit rejoindre une scolarité dans le formel, soit permettre une meilleure insertion socio-économique. | Switzerland | 5 684 017 € | Niger, |

| Resilience Programme for Somalia. | The programme aims at promoting economic growth, resilience of vulnerable and disaster- affected people and sustainable natural resources management by supporting communities to address their existing needs in the productive sector, building and strengthening the capacities of affected households and communities in order to improve their resilience. It addresses some of the main constraints to growth potential and sustainable natural resources management notably: (i) loss of productive assets (livestock/farming/irrigated land) due to drought, floods, diseases, (ii) declining livestock and agriculture production and productivity due to less favourable husbandry practices and technologies, environmental degradation and deterioration of natural resources, (iii) increasing land pressure due to increasing human population and settlements, reducing the area available for grazing livestock, (iv) low socio-economic empowerment of women and youths, resulting in impoverishment of community and households, exacerbating food insecurity and poverty, (v) poorly developed domestic market structures, (vi) low level of investments in Somalia and lack of economy diversification and economic opportunities, (vii) land degradation, overgrazing and extinction of native species, (viii) the largely insufficient support to chronically vulnerable households, and (ix) persistent conflicts over natural resources leading to erosion of assets and decrease of mobility, essential to water and feed accessibility during dry season. | EU (EDF) | 59 000 000 € | Somalia, |
